Is Waaree a 'confident' solar company?

Indian solar panel maker Waaree Energies said on Tuesday that it is "confident" about its exports to the United States and is prepared to address any potential anti-dumping investigation, after a coalition of solar manufacturers accused it of undercutting prices.

Does Waaree see a slowdown in Solar Exports?

Despite growing regulatory scrutiny and policy shifts in the U.S. clean energy sector, Waaree said it sees no slowdown in solar exports due to power demand from data centers, manufacturing "reshoring", and transportation electrification in the U.S. "We also see a 100 GW order pipeline, with a significant portion from the U.S," Paithankar said.

Where is Waaree Energies Ltd based?

It also provides engineering, procurement, and construction solutions; and operation and maintenance services; and operates as an independent power producer, which generates renewable energy.
